REPORT ON ACTIVITIES ON BERRIES

BRUNO MEZZETTI
D3A-UNIVPM, ITALY

Improving the stability of high-quality traits of berry in different environments and cultivation systems for the benefit of European farmers and consumers

H2020 - GOODBERRY CONSORTIUM:

Coordinated by the University of Málaga, GoodBerry brings together 19 partnering institutions from Europe, Chile and China. The consortium comprises internationally renowned academic groups with extensive experience in plant breeding, plantgenomics, and plant metabolite profiling, as well as innovative small and medium-sized technology companies active in the berry-breeding sector.

Duration

48 months (01/03/2016 - 29/02/2020)

GOODBERRY: Enlarging the berry network

Goodberry activites

- Scientific and Technical Training
 - 8th International Strawberry Symposium, Quebec City, 2016
 - 2 day Sensory Workshop in December 2016 (TUM)
 - 1st BerrySchool 4 days in March 2017; 30 participants from several countries, 15 speakers of GoodBerry consortium
 - Field visit to Huelva as part of the 1st BerrySchool
 - 3 day Summer Breeding School in June/July 2017; 15 master students (Hansabred)
 - 3rd International Strawberry Congress, September 6-8 , 2017 Antwerp Belgium
 - Technical trainings for Berry growers, breeders, nurseries, technical staff, advisors and PhD students organized by several partners

iPLANTA: a large network involving experts from 31 EU signatory countries

- Next Event: 2nd IPLANTA Conference and 3rd MC Meeting, at Adam Mickiewicz University, Umultowska 89, 61-614 Poznań, February 14-16th, 2018

Now open – CALL OF ABSTRACT : <http://iplanta.univpm.it/>

IPLANTA CHALLENGES

- a) Evaluation of the efficacy of the RNA molecules to be used for the induction of disease and pest resistance and metabolic changes in plants.
- b) Examination of the specificity of the selected miRNAs and siRNAs and their impacts on both target and non-target/off-target systems.
- c) Development of specific risk assessment and risk management guidelines which relate to the target and non-target effects of the miRNAs and siRNAs on food, feed and the environment.
- d) Improvement of the specificity of the selected RNA molecules.
- e) Understanding the modes of transmission, uptake, systemic spread and degradation of dsRNAs, mi-RNAs and siRNAs in target and non-target organisms.
- f) Determination of the environmental and socio-economic impacts of plant RNAi technology and products.
- g) Compare efficiency, risk and benefits of RNAi against gene/genome editing technologies.

XII Giornate Scientifiche SOI

La Comunità Scientifica e Tecnica Italiana impegnata nei settori dell'OrtoFloroVivaismo e della Frutticoltura si incontrerà presso la Scuola di Agraria dell'Alma Mater - Università degli Studi di Bologna dal 19 al 22 giugno 2018.

Occasione di incontro e di confronto particolarmente rivolta ai Giovani, con l'intento di fornire loro un ambito di livello internazionale nella presentazione e discussione dei propri risultati, le Giornate Scientifiche intendono in questa edizione dare evidenza a tematiche legate alla Innovazione, tanto per gli aspetti legati alla produzione di nuova conoscenza, che per quelli che ne condizionano il trasferimento e l'adozione da parte degli attori delle diverse filiere.

È prevista l'organizzazione di workshop, oltre a visite tecniche di diverse filiere produttive presenti nella regione Emilia Romagna. Sono previste relazioni ad invito, contributi orali e in forma di poster. Verranno altresì assegnati i Premi SOI per i migliori articoli pubblicati da Giovani Ricercatori nel periodo 2016-2017.
